

Biography: Nalini Maharaj

Ms Nalini Maharaj holds a B. Proc and LLB from the University of Kwa-Zulu Natal. She holds qualifications in financial accounting for public entities and corporate governance from the University of South Africa. Ms Maharaj is skills development facilitator, risk practitioner and high court litigator with 22 years' experience in skills evaluation training and litigation. She is the director of Ishana Maharaj Incorporated, and has extensive experience in civil, labour and criminal law. She is also well versed in compliance with laws and regulation matters and has experience lecturing at Legal Education and Development, Wits University and University of Pretoria.

She has skills and qualifications in finance, internal audit, risk management, governance and project management. Ms. Maharaj has extensive experience in auditing, accounting for public entities, forensic investigation as well as corporate governance and risk. Ms Maharaj sits on numerous boards, including the National Development Agency and the Independent Regulatory Board of Auditors.